Proposal Made For 2 Dates on County Taxes

A proposal that the county of Ulster make a study of a plan for payment of county taxes in two installments was offered to the Board of Supervisors by Supervisor Edward Eckert (R) of the town of Esopus at a meeting of the board Thursday evening.

Advanced by Wilson

Eckert said the proposal, which was not original with himself but had been advanced by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson when he was a member of the Board of Supervisors, was being made too late for any action for 1957 tax collection but he suggested a committee be named now to begin study of the plan so it might be instituted for the 1958 tax collection period.

Chairman Relyea named to the committee Supervisors Eckert, Peter Williams of Saugerties and Supervisor Harry Snyder of Marbletown.

In presenting the suggestion, Supervisor Eckert said most people gave little thought to taxes until they received a tax bill in January just after the Christmas season when funds were low.

Hardship at Present

A study of the returned tax roll indicated a great number of people were apparently unable to pay their taxes when due and there was added a 1 per cent collection fee for February and then an additional 1/2 per cent monthly until the penalty reached 4 per cent. Unpaid taxes were turned over to the county treasurer and if not paid, with the penalty, the property was offered for sale at tax sale.

The board has the power to fix the collection in two installments and Eckert said this would relieve the taxpayer of great burden immediately after the holiday season.

Moves for Study

Reappraisal Plan Protested By 400 at Saugerties Meeting

Strong objections to the new reappraisal program were voiced by approximately 400 residents of the village of Saugerties at a protest meeting held Thursday evening at the VFW Hall, it was reported today by Attorney Louis P. Francello, spokesman for the Saugerties Taxpayers' Association.

Mr. Francello said grievances were also expressed by property owners who had purchased homes within the last year "and who were given an assessment in excess of the purchase price."

He said the association is going to appoint a three-member committee to represent those who attended last night's meeting. The committee will be named at the next regular meeting.

Dates to Watch For MV Owners

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—The Motor Vehicle Bureau says that although registrations of passenger cars and motorcycles do not expire until Jan. 31, there are three dates for owners of other vehicles to watch for.

A bulletin sent to bureau offices and police yesterday listed these other termination dates:

Dec. 31, for buses, taxis, ambulances and school buses.

Jan. 10, for dealers and transporters.

Jan. 15, for commercial, retailer, suburban and farm vehicles.

The new plates will be black with orange letters and will be the new standard size—six by 12 inches. All vehicles will get two plates, except for trailers and motorcycles, which will carry one.

Major Ports Are Crippled By ILA Walkout of 60,000

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—A crippling strike by thousands of longshoremen today hit New York and other ports along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Waterfront activity appeared to be at a virtual standstill from Maine to Texas—threatening a loss of a million dollars a day or more to shippers.

The International Longshoremen's Assn., Independent, with some 60,000 members, called the strike as of midnight when its old contract with the New York Shipping Assn. expired without agreement on a new pact.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner called both sides and federal mediators into session here in an effort to effect an early settlement. He had pleaded against a national crisis.

Union spokesmen said 54 ships were tied up in New York Harbor. Two incoming ships, the Italian liner Saturnia and the Panama liner Panama, managed to dock despite the walkout.

Strikes have hit the port frequently.

Action Is Called for By Premier Move Seen Plan To Incite Nasser

London, Nov. 16 (AP)—Soviet demands that Egypt be restored her pre-invasion territory promptly today toughened the peace-keeping task facing UN Secretary Dag Hammarskjold and the Middle East police force.

The renewed Russian backing was considered certain to stiffen Egypt's position regarding the role of the international force, already directly counter to firm stands taken by Britain, France and Israel.

Accompanies Troops

The secretary general flew to Egypt today from the UN troop staging area near Naples for on-the-scene efforts to get the policing operation in action. He accompanied 54 Colombian troops. They were followed by a second plane carrying 50 Norwegians.

Hammarskjold's plane landed at the Abu Sueir airport, near Ismailia, at 12:43 p. m. (5:43 a. m. EST). He was expected to confer briefly with local UN and Egyptian commanders there, and then head for Cairo to see Egyptian President Nasser.

Already in the Suez Canal Zone was the first UN contingent of 92 Danish and Norwegian troops. They were standing in barracks at Abu Sueir airfield, behind the Egyptian battle lines, awaiting reinforcements and orders.

Future Unknown

Swedish Maj. Curt Egersted, a UN truce observer, told the first units to reach Egypt: "You will stay here until further instructions. You will be quartered in camps on this airfield. I know nothing about your future plans."

Another 513 Danes, Norwegians and Canadians waited at the Capodichino staging area, near Naples, to be flown to Egypt. More UN forces were expected at Capodichino over the weekend.

Before leaving Italy, Hammarskjold would say nothing about his plans in Egypt. He declined to talk to reporters before boarding his plane.

"That's not necessary now," he told an aide.

Russia's latest move in the Middle East crisis came in the form of notes from Premier Bulganin to the prime ministers of Britain, France and Israel.

The notes demanded that the three countries pull their troops out of Egypt immediately, that Egypt be paid by the three nations for material losses suffered in the invasion and that the UN police force be restricted to positions along the 1949 Israeli-Egyptian Armistice lines. He said the police force should not be stationed in the Suez Canal zone.

In Line With Egypt

Except for the question of compensation, which Egypt had not raised, these demands fell wholly in line with Egypt's position.

Action Postponed by Supervisors On Naming of County Health Board

Action on appointment of a mental health board by the Board of Supervisors was postponed last night until the next meeting of the board to permit further study of the proposition and to allow "clarification" and submission of "more definite" plans for the program.

Supervisor Peter Williams (R), chairman of the health committee, reported for the committee on the meeting held Wednesday with the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies and others interested in the appointment of a mental health board.

Interested in Cost

Williams said he was "not against" the proposal but said the financial portion of the plan was important. He cited figures from Rockland county where he said the plan had cost $97,000 this year. A mental health program has been in effect there for 19 months. He suggested that action on appointment of a mental health board be postponed until the next meeting of the board and that meanwhile further study be made by the committee and a more definite program be advanced.

Wants Another Meeting

Williams suggested the committee from the board and the Council of Social Welfare "meet once more" to get a "better picture and secure more light" on the proposition and then have a report ready for the supervisors at their next meeting.

Supervisor John Gaffney (D), minority leader, said the minority party had suggested a program for the year and included in that program had been a suggestion that a mental health board be appointed.

He said Supervisor Marshall (D) of Rochester had moved last spring that the chairman name a mental health board as provided by law and that the board make a study of the mental health program but the resolution was tabled.

Seeks Progress

Gaffney said appointment of the suggested mental health board would not have involved the county in any financial obligation but that board could have made a study and he felt more progress would have been made than had been made by the existing committee.

He said "in general" the committee will see what can be done about the assessment program," Mr. Francello said.

He said that last night's meeting "should be a guide for the village administration as to what the wishes of the people are."

He noted that strong objections to the reappraisal program were voiced by those at the meeting, "most of whom claimed they were assessed more than they should be."

Gaffney Associates of Albany, professional assessors, are in charge of the reappraisal program authorized by the village Board of Trustees.

Onion Price Manipulating Is Probed in Trading at Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 16 (AP)—The government dug yesterday into details of onions trading on the Chicago mercantile exchange in an effort to prove prices had been manipulated last winter.

The only witness heard during the first two days of a Commodity Exchange Authority hearing testified he was one of a group of operator's who agreed to keep onions off the market but deserted on learning others were ignoring the agreement.

He is Jack Kelly, president of Kelly and Black, a commission firm on the Chicago exchange. He said two futures traders accused of manipulating the market double crossed the group with whom they had worked out an agreement.

The government described the complicated operations as a double conspiracy.

Its complaint is against Vincent W. Kosuga of Pine Island, N. Y., and Sam Siegel of Franklin Park, Ill. Kosuga is a grower and shipper of onions as well as a heavy trader on the Chicago exchange. Siegel is president of National Produce Distributors, Inc.

The government contends Kosuga and Siegel conspired with 13 growers and shippers to boost, or at least hold firm, the price of onions. Then the two men depressed the price of the March, 1956, onion futures contracts by dumping stocks on the market, the CEA said.

Onions fell from $1.60 a bag

Fears Uprisings in Hawaii If Shooting War Breaks Out

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Retired Lt. Gen. John W. (Iron Mike) O'Daniel said today he "visualized" the danger of a Communist-led uprising in the strategic Hawaiian Islands if the cold war should explode into a shooting war.

O'Daniel told the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee that as commander of the U.S. Army in the Pacific from September, 1952 to April, 1954 he considered there had been a dangerous Communist infiltration of the islands. He said "the danger is just as great or greater" now.

Even then, O'Daniel testified, his command posts regularly conducted exercises in which "I visualized an uprising in the islands simultaneous with an attack from the outside."

O'Daniel testified at a public hearing at which Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) presided.

O'Daniel said he is "delighted,"

Barking of Dog Leads to Girl

Delhi, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—The barking of a farm dog last night led a father to his 16-year-old daughter, who had been missing since Sunday.

Henry H. Pipa said he was taking milk from the barn to the milkhouse on his farm near here when he heard the farm dog, a German Shepherd named Sparky, barking in a field.

Pipa said that when he investigated he found his daughter, Gail, wandering in the field about 500 yards from his house and "took her by the hand."

He said the girl had lost weight and was wearing the same clothes in which she disappeared. "She was a little confused but I'm sure she'll be alright," he reported.

Dr. Paul Kerney said Gail was too exhausted to be questioned. More than 100 volunteers had been searching this Delaware county area for the girl.

Christmas Seals Go Out in Mail To County, City

1956 Christmas Seals of the Ulster County TB and Health Association were scheduled for delivery by mailmen today as the annual drive for funds to fight tuberculosis got underway in Ulster county.

The 50th Christmas Seals sale was officially launched Wednesday afternoon at the Central Post Office when two youngsters, representing the children on this year's seal, honored the mailmen with the first sheets of seals.

The seals were sold to Acting Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk and Assistant Postmaster Robert E. Meeker by Laura Norton and Richard J. McCarthy, both five years old.

Mr. Newkirk, Mr. Meeker, Kenneth Williams, superintendent of mails, and the mail carriers were honored "for their assistance in bringing better health to the people of the county."

Power in Stamps

"The Christmas Seal is a powerful piece of paper," Robert Russell, chairman of the 1956 campaign said, "and it is only powerful because many people cooperate with us in the sale—volunteers, newspapers, radio stations and many others who make up the work of the program. Everyone who contributes to the 1956 Christmas Seals Sale is also part of this important health program made possible through the seals' sale funds."

"Because of the many health activities undertaken by the Ulster County TB and Health Association for our people, we look forward to the most successful Christmas Seals Sale in which the people of Ulster county have ever participated."

Mr. Russell said it is hoped "that many new friends will be added to the list of the thousands of contributors who have been so generous in past years."

BABSON on BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES ELECTIONS

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 16—Now is the time to read the dangerous promises of all of last week's successful candidates. These promises make more inflation inevitable, due to the Employment Act of 1946. This was a vicious act. Ray D. Murphy, chairman of the Board of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, has an excellent article in the Commercial and Financial Chronicle of October 11 demanding that this Act be amended. I, however, cannot imagine President Eisenhower and the new Congress making such amendments until it is too late.

Until then, those who now receive pensions, life insurance, social benefits for the aged, and social security can be severely hurt. Not only large investors will suffer. Already our own Government Bonds (the 2½'s) have declined from 106 to 91.

The banks and insurance companies need not suffer. They receive deposits and premiums in "phony" money, but they will pay out with "phony" money. Wages will increase, but most banks and insurance companies are adopting automation to get on with fewer employees. Certain real estate and some commodities, such as natural resources, may for a while benefit from inflation. But the great mass of honest people will ultimately suffer and President Eisenhower will not prevent it.

READERS SHOULD be interested only in what their wages, pensions, social security, and bank deposits and insurance will buy. We should forget all about dollars and think only of what can be purchased in terms of food, rent, clothing, education, entertainment, etc. I definitely forecast that the cost of living will gradually increase during the next four years of the Republican Administration.

The promise of new highways, slum clearance, and other worthy projects will all cost more than expected. When you go under a new steel bridge on one of these new highways, remember that from 1946, when the Employment Act became law, to the present time, the price of steel has just about doubled. Certainly the automobile industry and most of the increase in all plant capacity depend on steel. Steel and related industries employ 80 per cent of our mass production workers.

THE EXPENDITURES which can depend on government money will continue, but expenditures for products bought on installments may suffer. Here are some more figures to think over: Since 1939 the Government debt has increased from $40 billion to $275 billion resulting in an increase in the money supply from $63 billion to $213 billion and private debt has risen from $125 billion to around $350 billion.

The great surprise to economists is that the cost of living is not gone up more during this period. The main reason is the new inventions and installation of new machinery reducing the need for hand labor. Inventors—not government or bank officials—deserve thanks that the cost of living is no higher than it is today. Nevertheless, I forecast that the cost of living will gradually increase during the next four years of the Republican Administration.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 16, 1956

THE 'NEW' COMMUNISM

For two weeks the world heard the voice of free Hungarians. It was a voice that cried out in anguished tones against the Communist tyrant that had muffled it so long. But now it is stilled again.

Led by tanks and planes, many thousands of Russian soldiers swarmed into a land whose population totals considerably less than that of the New York metropolitan area.

Though the brave rebel forces here and there fought on against crushing odds, it was clear the revolt had been smashed.
The Russians arrested Premier Imre Nagy, who by a strange process had in a few days become almost a "liberal" leader, and installed a typical puppet regime beholden to Moscow.

It was a terribly unhappy ending to one of the most glorious chapters in the long story of man's quest for liberty.

In Poland, defiance of Moscow succeeded because it did not go too far. The government there held to Communist lines. There was no open revolt, no cry for full Communist overthrow, no pulling down of Russian statues or burning of Red books.

But in Hungary all these crucial challenges were flung at the Kremlin. Emboldened by their first successes, the rebels demanded more and more. On point after point, Nagy yielded.

He abolished farm collectivization, promised free elections, amnesty for rebels, and a government with non-Communist representation. He called for withdrawal of Russians troops from Budapest, and announced Hungary's repudiation of the Warsaw pact authorizing Soviet detachments on satellite soil.

Russia's limited forces in Hungary began a pull-back as the Kremlin talked of withdrawal not only there but from Poland and Romania.

Yet all the while Moscow's councils were divided. The peril of a free bridgehead reaching to the very border of the Soviet Union was deemed great. Other satellites would be split and flanked.

So, as millions of Hungarians rejoiced in their breath of free air, and Soviet commanders "negotiated" troop withdrawals, far greater Russian forces pounded across the border and took a stranglehold on strategic points. At dawn on Sunday, Nov. 4, they struck with full armored might.

The old Russia of Stalin, imposing its will with a blow from the mailed fist, was reborn in this action. With its rebirth the image of a Communist leadership dedicated to peace and justice crashed in the dust.

Not even the clamor of war in the Middle East can cloak the evil of tyranny so ruthlessly reassured. The United Nations has acted to strip off the smiling mask and proclaim to the world its support for Hungary. The whole world must see the Russians for what they are.

Hungary's real emergence as a newly free land may now be long years off. Yet none but the most gullible followers of the Kremlin will question that the remarkable Hungarians are kept from liberty only by the most overwhelming application of force.

Their fierce spirit should fire the hearts of all free men.

Now the elections are over for four more years. And after a few days of rest the politicians will be back at work campaigning for the next one.

Poland, Hungary, the entire satellite world might well be observed with studious care by President Nasser of Egypt. These countries were economically linked to the Soviet Union. But what has happened to their economies?

It's interesting to recall the story of the man who recently paid cash for star saphphire cuff links in Detroit—as you dive under the dresser for one of the old
last visit.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE SHIFTING SCENE

T. Coleman Andrews who used to be a tax collector and became the leading American antagonist of the income tax, running for President on the new party ticket, made an interesting point in his acceptance speech for the States' Rights Party:

"... I'm not advocating a return to one-room schools or to the era in which they made their magnificent contributions to the achievement of our unparalleled greatness. But there wasn't any Federal aid in those days, my friends. Washington didn't have any Federal aid. Jefferson didn't have any. Lincoln didn't have any. Ford didn't have any. The Wright Brothers didn't have any. None of the greats who started America on the road to glory had any."

"But I'll tell you what they did have. They had freedom—freedom to dream and freedom to do and achieve, unhampered by ruinous taxation and bureaucratic interference."

The distinction that is really being drawn is between a pioneer people who do not resent dirt under the finger-nails and a settled, accepting people who regard the refinements of living as more important than the joys of achievement. It is not quite true to put the whole American people in either category. What is true is that great changes have taken place during the past 50 years, changes in our mode of living and in our habits of thought.

American restlessness has not disappeared and this is evidenced by a constantly shifting population as well as by the development of altogether new industries and new means of employment. There is no evidence that the standards of life are better although there is evidence of vast improvements in the housing and household facilities of all elements of the population with a general tendency of eliminating the proletariat altogether. Despite depressions and wars, no peasantry and no European-style proletariat have developed in the United States. This is a middle-class country and few Europeans of wealth enjoy better facilities of living than the American worker and farmer.

On the other hand, a definite European-style public official has appeared in permanent form. The German beamte is upon us, the bureaucrat, the man who makes a small living and a greater or lesser career out of being a government official and whose particular joy in life is in governing the lives of others. He seeks to concentrate in his hands if not power surely authority which he often exercises with a mighty arm to the discomfiture of the American people who are not accustomed to that sort of thing. This was originally a product of the Depression when made jobs seemed to be the thing and it was augmented by the necessities of war. Somehow there seems to be no end to excessive government employment.

Heretofore in American history, the people regarded a government official as one who having failed in other fields, took a government job. There was little respect for such a man, particularly in the middle class where storekeepers were becoming manufacturers and manufacturers millionaires, and the go-getter was regarded as an ideal. There is a vast, if subtle change, in the outlook of this nation between the time of Elbert Hubbard who glorified the self-made millionaire and today when feature stories are written about such persons as Walter Reuther, George Meany and David Dubinsky. Perhaps these labor leaders are the current type of self-made man and we may one day get an Horatio Alger to inspire youth not to make money, but to get on in union politics.

This change is reflected in the politics of the nation, particularly in the kind of man who is a United States Senator and who only too often represents the laboring third of his state rather than the economic upper tenth as in the time of Mark Hanna.

These changes are fundamental and are not the products of the New Deal, the Fair Deal or the Eisenhower middle course. They are products of the lessening in the pioneer elements in the American population and the growth of political and economic power among farmers and workers who in the aggregate possess larger purchasing power, more savings and more political force than the upper middle class, which grows increasingly poorer as taxes deprive them of their advantage.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

NAGGING

To quote Dr. Wellman: "The wives of the patient group had a common technique of alteration which the husbands found devastating. The offending topic, which might be otherwise unrelated to the cause of the quarrel, was discussed by the wife in a critical and depreciating fashion. After the conversational resources of this event, which were likely to give pain or cause discomfort, had been exhausted, the wife would begin a discussion of some other humiliating episode. The wife would persist in one such attack after another until she decided spontaneously either to decrease the intensity of the attack or to discontinue it. At these times her voice was reported to change and become sharp, biting, cutting, harsh, hard or sarcastic. If the husband did anything except agree completely, the denunciations became bitter and would last longer."

"The only report of any tactic which was effective in stopping this sort of tirade was made by one patient who on one occasion used the same technique against his wife as she was using on him. He produced an intolerable situation for his wife, feelings of regret and guilt on his own part, and varying degrees of condemnation from members of their social group. His wife left home but he was able to persuade her to return. One of her favorite topics of conversation, if disgruntled, was a discussion among their more intimate friends of the unpleasant things he had 'thrown up' to her on that occasion."

What were the reactions of this patient group to this man's technique? Two of the men said that if they used that particular device they would drive their wives "crazy" (although it was being used against them); twelve said that a man did not talk to his wife like that and 14 said that a man did not talk like that. The remaining 17 could not give any reason why they had not used the aggressive action—nagging. Men could argue loudly, they could call names and on occasion swear, or, with what was considered extreme provocation, they could strike their wives with less disapproval from the social group than the technique of nagging would provoke.

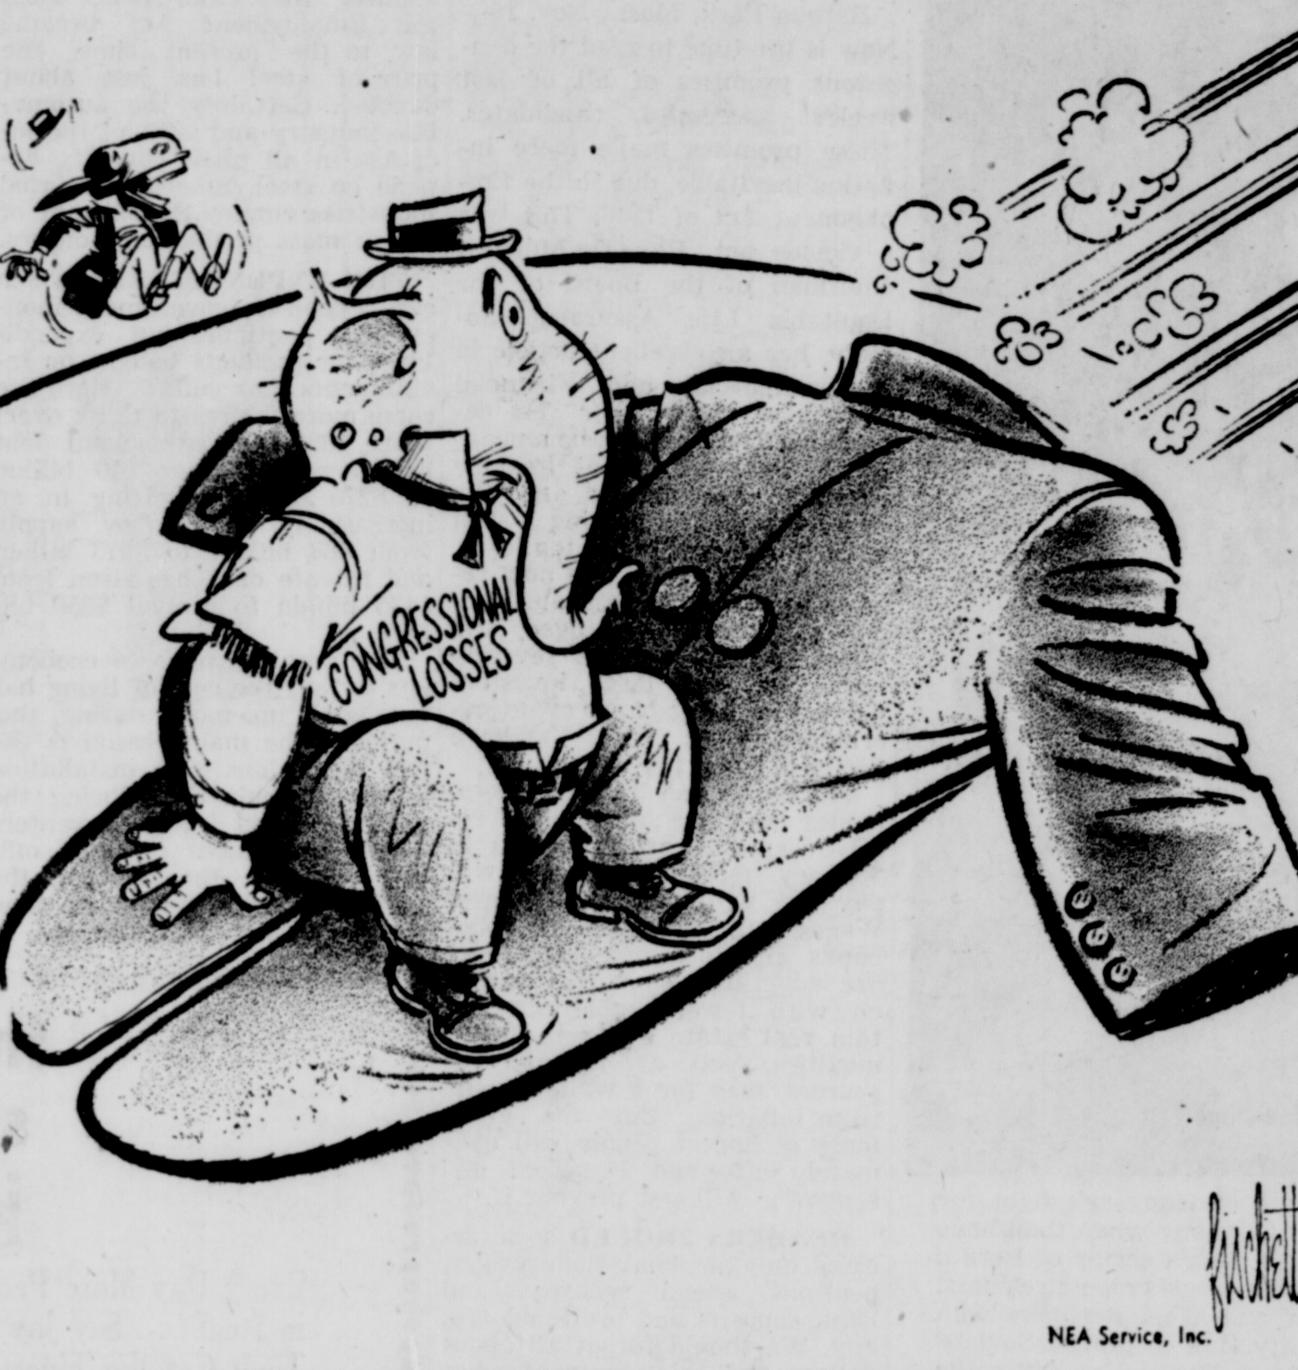

You will remember that we spoke of 11 men who were called a "control group" who did not have physical or emotional upsets because of quarreling in the home. These men had the traditional bias of the patient group but they did not seem to express their convictions of masculine superiority with the same certainty as the patient group.

We will discuss this control group a little more tomorrow and the general thought engendered by this whole study.

Washington — (NEA) — In spite of Ike's apparent bouncing good health and spirits, and the general joy at the Executive Mansion over the big election victory, there's going to be a sharp slowdown on White House social affairs during the winter.

An insider reports:

"Customs and the visits of many foreign visitors dictated a pretty heavy White House social schedule the first term. But since the postponement of most social events last winter we probably won't go back to the big routine."

Plenty of long weekends in Gettysburg are on the schedule, however.

Only the most important, traditional White House formal affairs, such as the diplomatic, judicial and military receptions, will be held.

Ike has laid down the law that this inauguration will not be the week-long round of wild celebrating that characterized the one four years ago. Ike doesn't even want an inaugural ball. He'll probably be overruled.

Incidentally, ladies, if you plan

Washington, Nov. 16.—Sometimes they come belatedly but there is no gainsaying the effective rebuttals made by President Eisenhower in his press conferences as he faces a barrage of questions—many of them at times as hostile as if an opposition party spokesman had expressed them.

For months now the clichés and bromides of the Democrats have set forth these propositions:

First, that the Administration has been "drifting" in the Middle East and has had no "policies" to prevent the situation there from developing as it has.

Second, that the "liberation" policy of the Administration has not come to the rescue of nations in Eastern Europe.

Third, that the President has not exercised "leadership" inside his own party. Yet nobody can cite more than two or even three Republicans out of the forty-seven elected to the Senate either in 1952 or 1954 or 1956 who have been at variance with the definition of "Modern Republicanism" expressed by the President this week.

The paper is sponsored by the Society for the Study of Evolution. It is part of a larger theoretical work concerned with changes of structure in frogs with regard to differences in environment factors.

Look how much the Big M has grown for 1957—in size, power, weight—in everything that counts in a car!

NEW WIDTH Notice how THE BIG M's new breadth is dramatized by a massive new Jet-Flo Bumper. The oval shape of this graceful new bumper design is as functional as it is beautiful. It acts as a double bumper—provides both high and low protection. Notice the matching "twin"-styled rear bumper (right).

NEW LENGTH, NEW WHEELBASE—CLOSE TO TWO-TONS BIG

Every important dimension is bigger. In addition to the new length, wheelbase is a big 122 inches.

And the 1957 Mercurys are up to 225 pounds heavier, too. A far lower center of gravity gives you an amazing sense of "nailed-down" stability on curves and corners.

NEW POWER—UP TO 290 HP

A 255-hp Safety-Surge engine is standard. A 290-hp Turnpike Cruiser V-8 is optional. And there are two Mercury engine "firsts." A Thermo-matic Carburetor controls the temperature of air the engine breathes. The results: extra power and economy. And, in the Montclair series, a Power-Booster Fan coasts when not needed for cooling—saves horsepower.

NEW DREAM-CAR DESIGN

1957's most advanced styling—a clean-cut, dynamic look that makes other cars look old-fashioned. The roof is gracefully slender—sweeps back out over the rear window to provide extra headroom. The tail-lights have an imaginative V-angle slant. Here's America's first production dream car—styling that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

DRAMATIC NEW FEATURES

Everywhere you look there's a new idea: an exclusive 7-position Keyboard Control that outdates ordinary, push-button transmissions, an exclusive Floating Ride with a cushioning action you have to feel to believe. You can even get a power seat that "remembers"—turn a dial and it finds your favorite seat position. But see everything. Stop in today.

An election was petitioned for by the Teamsters Local, No. 445, but that matter had been before the courts for over a year and the election was not held until today, Yerry said. The National Labor Board had ordered the election held at some date prior to November 23.

Those included are all production workers, maintenance men, warehousemen, yardmen, truck drivers and carpenters employed by both the Miron Rapid Mix Concrete Corporation and Miron Building Products Co., Inc.

for the November, 1955, contract to 10 cents a bag for the March 1956, contract. The drop allowed Kosuga and Siegel to settle at a low price futures contracts they had sold at a high price, yielding heavy profits, the CEA alleged.

Kelly testified the grower-shipping group that included himself bought 287 cars of onions owned by Kosuga and Siegel and stored in Chicago. He said the traders told the group they would be forced to deliver them on the exchange unless the group bought them.

Such a delivery would lower the onions price and holders of stocks consequently would lose. The price the group paid was $1.60 a bag, or $960 a carload. Kosuga and Siegel wanted them to take 400 cars but they took only 287, Kelly said.

Asks U. S. Group To Disown View On India Role

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—India's V. K. Krishna Menon today called on the United Nations delegation to disown a statement by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) criticizing India's role in the move to seat Red China.

Knowland, member of the U. S. delegation, touched off the fight last night by issuing a personal statement to the press criticizing the role played by Menon in spearheading the drive to get the Chinese Communists into the world organization.

Knowland, member of the U. S. delegation, touched off the fight last night by issuing a personal statement to the press criticizing the role played by Menon in spearheading the drive to get the Chinese Communists into the world organization.

Menon referred to a declaration issued by Knowland to the press last night in his personal capacity as Republican minority leader in the Senate.

The senator said he was shocked that Menon had apparently become the floor leader for the Communists in the campaign to seat the Chinese Reds.

Menon told the 79-nation general assembly that it was his duty to protest to the U. S. delegation and to ask U. S. Delegates Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. to say whether Knowland's views were those of the U. S. government.

"It is up to the United States delegation either to own or disown this statement," Menon declared.

Then referring to Knowland's statement that he was "shocked" by the role being played by India and its delegate, Menon said "being shocked is a state of mind and the thing to do about it is to go to a doctor."

"No delegation," he said, "has the right to question the integrity of another, and he who says that the delegation of India is here as the mouthpiece of any government and people of India, is guilty not only of a misstatement of fact but of disservice to the cause of international friendship."

A Widow Alone: How One Solved Her Fate

When a woman has reached the age of 69, and her husband leaves her in the big family home with no family in it any more—she has a whole set of problems to solve.

The worst problem of all is that she must make her own decisions on everything; the husband who shared and guided her decisions for a lifetime is no longer available to answer even the simplest question. (Where did he put that most-recently-acquired insurance policy, for instance?)

A pleasant little woman named Mrs. Grace Hampton found herself in this spot last December. She and Mr. Hampton had been living alone in their four-bedroom home where they had reared their five children.

"I didn't want to live alone in the house," Mrs. Hampton told me. "I didn't want the responsibility of keeping house any longer."

"All of the children came home when Father died, and each one of them wanted me to come and live with them. I just couldn't make up my mind to live in someone else's house. I guess I had been mistress of my own home for too long."

Mrs. Hampton had one other definite idea about arranging her later life: she wanted to stay in her own home town, with her own lifelong friends, and her own community interests. All her children lived in other cities.

She sold her home for $19,000. She used $5,000 of this to pay the entrance fee into a Methodist old people's home located in her own town.

She saved enough furniture to furnish her own room in the home, shipped the silver, furniture, china, and mementos in five directions to her five children. The rest she gave away or sold.

"It costs me $75 a month to live at the Home." Mrs. Hampton explains, "in addition to the initial payment of $5,000. It costs far less than it would cost to maintain the old house, and buy my groceries, too."

The children were embarrassed about it at first—to have their mother living in an old people's home. They soon forgot about that sort of foolishness. I'm happier here than I would have been anywhere else."

Mrs. Hampton had made a lot of decisions for herself, between that 4 a.m. when she became a widow and the old people's home. She had also grown up a bit, at age 69.

Other women may arrange their affairs when widowhood falls upon them in other ways. Any way they do it, it takes a mature approach, at an age when they are already expected to be mature.

Q—"I will be retired in less than two years from my job in a large aircraft plant. My wife and I have thought for a long time that we would like to open a self-service laundry in our town. Is this sort of business practical?"—A. S. A.

A—Yes, if there are not too many such laundries already in your community. But it's work. Self-service in this business usually means the proprietor serves the customer, not that the customer serves herself. Do you have enough mechanical knowledge to make the simple repairs yourself? Does your wife like to work as well as you do? Better roll up your sleeves if you choose this sort of retirement.

of year," the Rev. Mr. Porter, said.

The tower amplification system was installed in the Methodist Church during the Thanksgiving season, 1954, in tribute to the devoted and faithful service of one of the senior members of the church, Miss Margaret Newton. JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Didn't Find Proper Key

There was a right way to play today's hand, but South didn't find it. As a result he lost his slam contract.

West opened the deuce of hearts, and dummy won with the king. If South had taken a finesse at this very first trick, it and South had to make up his mind whether to play for his twelfth trick in spades or in hearts. He chose to take a heart finesse and thereby lost his slam.

South made his mistake by taking his club finesse in the wrong direction. At the second trick he should enter his hand with a diamond in order to lead the nine of clubs for a finesse.

If the finesse brings in four club tricks, South is home. If the finesse loses, East cannot safely return a heart. South will have the chance to test out the spades in the hope of getting a 3-3 break. If this suit breaks favorably, South doesn't need the heart finesse. If it fails to break, South will later be in position to try a heart finesse as his last resort.

located the old cheese factory at Arena which like the Holmes Mill had not been operated a long time prior to its acquisition by the city. It is our understanding that this factory was built shortly after the completion of the Delaware & Northern R.R. along with several other milk produce structures spread between Margaretville and East Branch—another relic of the days when the village of Arena was in its heyday in Delaware county. An award of $6,450 was made for the factory on their claim of $5,600.

Sect. 18, Parcel 2338—This parcel consisted of an abandoned gravel bank. An award of $750 was made on its claim of $3,300 for this parcel.

Sect. 18, Parcel 2325—Trustees of School Dist. No. 20 (Town of Andes). An award of $4,500 was made for this parcel on its claim of $8,800.

Sect. 18, Parcel 2337—School District No. 16, Town of Andes. An award of $2,500 was made for this property on its claim of $3,000. On this property was located the old Jacksonburg School which had been closed for some time since the opening of the Margaretville Central School.

Sect. 19, Parcel 2409—Ward F. Holmes and Marvin H. Bull as executors and trustees of the estate of George W. Holmes. Upon this property was located the old Arena Mill which was formerly operated by water power derived from the mill brook.

Sect. 20, Parcel 2461—The Village of Margaretville was awarded $6,500 on its claim of $25,000 for compensation for the acquisition of the former village dump which had to be eliminated by the Board of Water Supply as a sanitary measure due to its proximity to the Pepacton Reservoir.

Sect. 20, Parcel 2461—The Town of Middletown was awarded $1,000 on its claim of $20,531 for its ownership in the Arena Cemetery. The city contended that any remaining area not used was valueless.

1,000 to Be Enrolled In Established Fields

Approximately 1,000 persons will be enrolled in 33 courses in the Adult Education program of the Kingston city school system this year, it was announced by Hubert Hodderath, director of the program.

It was noted this is a tremendous increase over the approximately 150 persons enrolled in the program at its inception about 35 years ago. Courses then included Americanization, business, vocational and homemaking courses.

The 1956 bulletin on Adult Education lists 33 different subjects some of which, because of the numbers interested, are divided into two, three and in some cases four classes. Forty-four classes meet once or twice each week.

Today night school is providing instruction not only in such long established fields as cooking and dressmaking, woodworking, electricity, machine shop and auto mechanics, but there are also courses for carpentry, electrical, plumber and auto mechanics apprentices. These courses aim to supplement the practical experience that the apprentice gets on the job with related instruction which will give him more complete training in the field he has chosen. And in keeping with the new scientific developments of the mid-twentieth century, an advanced course in electronics is also being taught.

Business Courses

Another group of evening school courses is built around the needs of those engaged in office work and business. There are both beginning and advanced short-hand and typewriting classes, as well as a course offering instruction in the operation of new-type, time-saving business machines and the latest clerical techniques. A class in Law Everyone Should Know brings into the classroom different well-known local lawyers to discuss a series of topics often confusing to the average citizen.

As an aid to foreign-born men and women desiring to secure naturalization there are both beginning and advanced classes in Americanization and Citizenship.

Mathematics Review

Special needs of other groups are met by the courses in mathematics which offers an opportunity to both review the math learned in school and to take more advanced work in this subject if desired. Also a course in public speaking is available. Conversational French and German are also offered and a course in practical psychology.

Courses are given in photography, metalcraft, painting and drawing, ceramics and hooked rugs. For the homemaker there is a course in home decoration.

Women Drivers

Many women avail themselves of the Driving Training class offered in the afternoon during the winter months and afternoon and evening during the summer months.

A course entitled, Democracy in Action will start in January and continue during the time that the New York State Legislature is in session. The principle issues brought up in the legislature will be studied and discussed by this group.

Drivers Injured In 209 Collision

Two drivers who were injured slightly in a three-car collision on Route 209 at Stone Ridge early Thursday evening were arrested by Kingston state police, one on a charge of driving at an endangering speed, and the other on a charge of failing to notify the Motor Vehicle Bureau of his change of address.

Clayton Christiana, 21, suffered a laceration of the left eye, was arrested on the endangering speed charge, and Wesley Crawford, 27, of Monticello, who was arrested on a charge of failing to notify the Motor Vehicle of his change of address, received abrasion of the forehead, troopers said.

A 1950 sedan, operated by Grace Ede, 21, of Stone Ridge, each.

a 1955 sedan, operated by Crawford, and a 1949 sedan, operated by Christiana, were the cars involved, according to state police.

Troopers said the Ede vehicle, headed south, stopped and signaled to make a left turn and the Crawford car stopped behind it when the approaching Christiana car couldn't stop in time.

The Christiana car hit the Crawford car which struck the Ede vehicle, the report said.

Crawford and Christiana were treated by their physicians, troopers said.

Time of the accident was set at 6:05 p. m.

Gets Tie From Ike

West Paterson, N. J., Nov. 16 (AP)—Joseph Muccio, Republican leader of this borough, today had a new necktie—straight from the White House. Muccio and some friends were watching President Eisenhower as he spoke on television from Lexington, Ky., when Muccio noticed the President's tie. It was a large, four-in-hand necktie with Brown elephants. He said he'd like to have a tie like the President's. The comment gave his wife an idea: She wrote the President asking him to send the tie to her husband "when the election is over and you have no more use for it." Yesterday, a package came to Muccio's home at 11 Whippany avenue. The tie was there all right, plus a letter from Eisenhower's secretary saying that the President was delighted to give it to Muccio.

Po'keepsie Men Hurt in Mishap At Span Approach

Two Poughkeepsie men, injured Thursday night when their car was in collision with a tractor-trailer at the Highland approach to the Mid-Hudson Bridge, were reported in fair condition today at Vassar Brothers Hospital.

Injured were Joseph Leonard Doreo, 31, of 242 Mansion street, who suffered a badly bruised left thigh, and Kenneth W. Anderson, 35, of 35 Pershing avenue, a passenger in the Doreo car, who suffered severe bruises of the right knee and left arm, Highland state police reported.

Troopers Joseph Franke and Harvey Miller said the Doreo vehicle was headed west, coming off the bridge, when it was in a sideswipe collision with a tractor-trailer milk tank owned by the C and E Trucking Corp., of Rhinebeck, operated by Ivan Hitchcock, 41, of Grand Gorge.

The tractor trailer was making a sharp left turn, troopers said.

Mr. Doreo and Mr. Anderson were removed to the hospital where their condition today was described as "fair."

Time of the accident was set at 11 p. m.

Man Faces Murder For Beauty Parlor Shooting Upstate

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—A 35-year-old man faced arraignment today on a first-degree murder charge in connection with the shooting last night of a woman in a beauty parlor.

District Attorney Louis M. Greenblott of Broome county said Arlin G. Tyler would be charged with shooting Mrs. Elizabeth R. Gilbert, 36, of Whitest Point.

Police said Mrs. Gilbert apparently saw her assailant outside when she prepared to leave the beauty shop in the suburban shopping section of Nimmonsburg. A man entered the shop and fired four bullets from a .22-calibre rifle as she tried to make a telephone call, police said. He fled on foot.

The broome county sheriff's office said Tyler, identified as a former resident of Medway, Ohio, had been living recently in the Binghamton area, was taken into custody about 45 minutes later, about one-half mile from the shop.

Police said both Mrs. Gilbert and Tyler were divorced. They said no motive had been established for the shooting.

British Newsman Slain

Nicosia, Cyprus, Nov. 16 (AP)—A young British correspondent was shot and killed today by a gunman in Nicosia's violence-ridden inner city. Angus McLeod MacDonald, 27, correspondent for the Spectator magazine and other publications, was the first foreign newsman attacked by Cypriot rebels fighting to unite the British island colony with Greece. The gunman escaped.

West Cold Front Hits State Areas

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—A cold front from the west today cracked New York's summer November weather, but the weather bureau said the chill might be just a hit-and-run affair.

The temperature in Buffalo dipped 11 degrees, down to 50, in an hour early today.

Temperatures rose 15 to 25 degrees above normal for the period yesterday in most of the state. Syracuse, Rome, Elmira and Newburgh recorded 73. Utica and Oneonta had 72, Olean 71, Glens Falls and Rochester, 70, and Albany 69. The normal for this time of year is 47.

Sharp dips in temperatures are forecast for most of the state tonight and early tomorrow.

Better Fire Report

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—Gov. Harriman reported today that New York state's forest fire losses for the 1956 "fire year" were the lowest in years. From Nov. 1, 1955, through last Oct. 31, Harriman said, 943 fires burned 5,275 acres. Last year, 1,720 fires burned 23,127 acres. The best previous year was in 1950, when 8,181 acres were ravaged by 1,271 fires. Harriman said the 1956 level was "the best record in the history of the Conservation Department's Bureau of forest fire control." The bureau was established almost 30 years ago.

To Continue Tight

Philadelphia, Nov. 16 (AP)—A government expert says the money market for mortgages will continue to be tight for the next seven months. J. Stanley Baughman, president of the Federal National Mortgage Assn., an arm of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, said yesterday competition is strong for available lending funds. He said industrial and commercial construction is responsible. Baughman spoke at the closing session of the annual convention of the United States Savings and Loan League.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON
FROM A WORRY WART

Russia and China are not making "hot war" on America simply because they are not ready. Both are moving heaven and earth to build a gigantic industrial empire; when completed, we'll hear the roar of the tornado!

Russia has taken China by the scruff of the neck and is molding her into a huge industrial machine. Factories, railways, roads and bridges are being built. Over half of the worker's pay checks is taken in taxes and used for heavy industry.

The Chinese Government's tax revenues are large and growing. The Chinese railway since 1954 has built 700 miles of new track.

This new barbarism, loose in the world, is not being stopped. It is not inclined to waste a big attack on the West until it's in shape to make war—as war has to be made in this mechanized age.

Russia and China are industrializing. This is a warning to America that there's little time to bicker, sulk or procrastinate in stupid apathy.

The situation in Egypt and the Middle East is a powder keg. If Russia makes a double play with an assist from Nasser, Western Europe might be in real trouble for lack of fuel.

So, neighbor, I think I'll keep on being a worry wart! All of us should!

No Joy Here

Punta Gorda, Fla. (AP)—Joy, two-year-old parakeet belonging to the Ben Malones, has been borrowed from the office of the family-owned millworks for a long list of misdemeanors. He greeted ladies with wolf whistles, perched on men customers' eyeglasses and hatched rides on typewriter carriages. Most disrupting of all, he insisted on chattering over the telephone every time someone tried to use it.

Trick or Treat Visitors Collect $295 for Needy

Children from Protestant Churches in Kingston wore Church World Service arm bands and collected $295 in lieu of candy, apples and other treats on Halloween night.

The youngsters carried well marked containers for gifts of money to be used by Church World Service, a Protestant inter-church body for rehabilitation and relief to buy food for needy children.

Churches Participate

Sponsored by The Kingston Council of Church Women jointly with the Kingston Area Ministerial Association the project was shared by the following churches: Church of the Comforter, First Presbyterian, St. James Methodist, First Baptist, Trinity Methodist, Fair Street Reformed, Clinton Avenue Methodist, Redeemer Lutheran and Shokan Reformed.

Each dollar buys 100 pounds of surplus food which is immediately shipped to a project center for distribution. At Halloween in 1955 $900,000 plus was raised by Church World Service for this project. 1956 is the first year that Kingston Churches participated.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The other day in this column appeared a poem by the late John Horton entitled "Rondout in the Fifties," dated 1854. One line read "Schoonmaker and Wood sell ginger pop." This poem was sent to me by Mrs. William F. Hasbrouck of Stone Ridge who happened to find it as she was looking through some old papers. Ted C. Wood who is, I take it the fourth generation of Woods to run the bottling works brought me two old Kingston city directories with his great-grandfather's advertisement in it, reading: "Abraham Wood, sole and exclusive agent and bottler of Yuengling's celebrated lager beer, etc., manufacturer of soda water, sarsaparilla and birch mineral water, and root beer, and filling steel fountains. They were at 4 Home street in Rondout, T. E. Carroll, who also had choice family groceries, flour and provisions was a wholesale dealer in bottled lager and mineral waters at 34-36 Washington avenue. He delivered (on horse and wagon) free to any part of the city. He supplied families and the trade with fresh bottled lager in any quantities. M. Dipold, had a hotel and tavern, and was also bottler of the Jacob Hoffman Brewing Co.'s celebrated lager beer at 34 Union avenue at Rondout, New York. There was the Kingston Bottling Establishment, sole agent for Ulster County of Ruppert's lager. Also bottler of all kinds of mineral waters, run by James Cummings, corner Washington and Lucas avenues, also known as Kingston City Steam Brewery, brewer of XX and XXX Diamond ale. George G. Liscomb also manufactured soda and mineral waters, and was a bottler of lager for trade and family use at 8 Union avenue in Rondout. There was George Hauck's lager beer brewery at Wurts and Holmes street in Rondout (now McEntee street.) Peter Barnum was at foot of Clinton avenue.

Looking down the list of different trades under the name Wood: I see there was the Wood Brothers, Charles S. and Chauncy E. who had their establishment corner Wall and John street where they sold boots, shoes, overshoes, hats, caps, gloves, mittens and umbrellas. Edmund S. Wood was an attorney and counselor at law, in Rondout at 157 Strand, Frank Wood of 118 Hunter street was a ship carpenter. Frank R. Wood was a bottler and lived at 17 Grand street. Miss Gussie Wood was an instructor at a cigar factory and lived at 109 Foxhall avenue. Harvey Wood was a farmer in Sawkill near the Toll Gate. Ira J. Wood was a shoemaker, and James R. Wood, they lived on North street, so it seems, James R. Wood is also listed as a printer at the Freeman office, he lived on Foxhall avenue. Luther W. Wood of 137

Lutherans Set Holiday Service At Saugerties

The Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement in Saugerties, will observe the national day of Thanksgiving with the service of Matins at 10 a. m. Thursday, Nov. 22, according to an announcement made by the Rev. Richard I. Crossland, pastor of the congregation.

In a message to the congregation the Rev. Mr. Crossland said, "Perhaps the thought uppermost in our minds at Thanksgiving is thankfulness for things. We are thankful for comforts of home; for the harvest; for plenty to eat, and for four freedoms. Good as all these are, St. Paul suggests another cause for thanksgiving . . . thanksgiving for people."

The Rev. Mr. Crossland urged his congregation to get down to the real roots of our thankfulness. He added, "It's not America, or the big turkey on the table, or the pay check you bring home each week. It's none of them. Let's be thankful for God! Let's be grateful for the greatest gift of all, Jesus Christ dying on a cross for you."

The service at 10 a. m. will feature special music by the chapel and Atonement choirs under the direction of Donald S. Fellows, and the Rev. Mr. Crossland will speak on, "A Look At The Cross."

The community is cordially invited to this service.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ayasse Sr. and son, Walter Ayasse of Queens Village and Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Witzbach and children of New Jersey spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ayasse here. Mr. Ayasse Sr. was taken ill and is re-described as something of a maverick Republican. He was strong for Wendell Willkie in 1940 and was the only Eisenhower man in the Kentucky delegation to the Republican national convention in 1952.

Morton is married and has two sons, Thruston Ballard Jr., 24, and Clay, 20.

Mrs. Morton, incidentally, has only one regret about her husband's expanding political career.

She says he doesn't have as much time for golf as he used to.

But Republican party leaders in Jefferson county had different ideas and Morton ran for Congress in 1946. He was elected.

Voters returned him in 1948 and 1950. Once again, in 1952, Morton decided to go back to Ballard Mills, and, again, he was urged to take another course.

He returned to Washington as assistant secretary of state, and, until he resigned to make this year's senatorial race, worked at winning congressional support for the administration's foreign aid program.

Space Ship Prediction

Miami Beach, Nov. 16 (AP)—E. V. Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Air Lines, told aviation leaders of the two Americas today that within 50 years "space ships may become commonplace for interplanetary travel."

"With luxurious accommodations for 1,500 to 2,000 passengers they will use atomic power to develop speeds up to 5,000 miles an hour or better, and will have a practically unlimited range," Rickenbacker said.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Snyder, Monday, Nov. 26.

Maritime Union Asks

100 Per Cent Bonuses

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—The National Maritime Union has threatened to stop some 150 vessels from sailing for the Mediterranean unless seamen receive 100 per cent war bonuses for cruising in the Suez Canal area. The threat may halt the sailing today from Brooklyn of the American Export Line freighter Expeditor.

Talks on the bonus issue broke down yesterday between the union and the American Merchant Marine Institute, representing 40 shipping companies.

The institute has offered bonuses of $10 a day for time spent in the so-called war area, $100 if a ship is docked and $150 if the vessel itself is attacked.

It also has offered to double any war risk insurance held by the seamen.

The union has demanded doubling a seaman's average pay of $19 a day, $150 if his vessel is attacked, $500 if personal effects are lost, and a $10,000 life insurance policy.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE . . . with . . . MAJOR HOOPPLE

In a Kansas town there lived a simple-minded youth by the name of Bill Beasley, whose facility in contracting small debts at the local stores was only equaled by his success in evading their payments. One day however, Bill made the mistake of showing some money before one of his creditors, and after the hard-fought argument which followed, the money was handed over to the storekeeper.

"Now," said Bill sadly, "we're square, and I want a receipt. Make it legal, so you won't be after me again."

The following receipt, which Bill long after proudly exhibited was composed by the storekeeper: "To Whom It May Concern: Greeting. All men know by these presents, habeas corpus and nux vomica, that Bill Beasley don't owe this firm nothing, and ain't going to."

Grocer—Say, boy, are you tryin' to steal them apples?

Little Boy—N-no, sir (meek and faltering) I'm tryin' not to!

If there's anything more depressing than one's passport photograph, we don't know about it. Kathleen Norris, entering the harbor of Rio de Janeiro, appraised her picture and then said: "If the port authorities don't recognize me I can't go ashore. But if they do—if they do I'll jump overboard!"

Heavier Turkeys Offer Most Economical Buys

By GAYNOR MADDUX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

A bigger turkey crop this year and lower prices—that's Thanksgiving news. Turkeys of all sizes, yes. But big birds will be in larger numbers. The big fellows are a better buy because they have more meat in proportion to bone and are lower in price per pound.

There will be an unusually large number of tom turkeys this year. The belief that hen turkeys are better eating than toms is not backed up by current United States Department of Agriculture research. Today, modern feeding and care and selection of better breeds, assures high quality meat in toms as well as hens.

Therefore, if your family is large, if your oven is big enough, and your refrigerator or freezer spacious, your wisest buy this Thanksgiving will be a big tom.

In Amherst, Mass., on the edge of the hilly campus, the Lord Jeffery Inn will serve a lordly Thanksgiving dinner. There will be this oyster stuffing in the turkey:

Oyster Stuffing

One and one-half pints oysters, 10 cups coarse bread crumbs, 2 cups finely diced celery, 2 medium chopped onions, 1 cup butter or other fat, 4 teaspoons poultry seasoning, 1 pint chicken or turkey stock.

GOLDEN BROWN on the outside, oozing with tastiness. And on the inside, oyster stuffing to conform to tradition.

Moisten bread crumbs with the stock and let stand. Sauté onions lightly in butter or margarine until partly cooked. Remove onions and add them to the bread crumbs. Sauté onions and celery in the same butter or margarine until cooked but not brown. When cooked add poultry seasoning. Add to oysters and bread crumbs and mix thoroughly. If a more compact stuffing is desired, more chicken or

The $10,000 price was the highest ever paid in Canada for a Hereford bull.

Black Chief HF, owned by Hockhockson Farm, Eatontown, N. J., was judged grand champion Aberdeen Angus bull.

At last night's horse show a big chestnut gelding owned by Mrs. Sheldon M. Smith of Ithaca, N. Y., won the $1,500 Eatontown Conformation Hunter Stake. The winner was Shannondale, standing 17 hands 2 inches. The top prize was worth $450.

The $1,500 Crump Stake for a horse pulling a four-wheeled roaster was won by Royal Commander, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Calder of Montreal. Runner-up was a 5-year-old bay gelding owned by Miles Wright of Matthews, N. C.

Vols Risk No. 1 Rating In Mississippi Contest

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Tennessee's unbeaten Volunteers find out tomorrow whether their spanking-new No. 1 national ranking is a genuine vote of confidence or just a kiss of death—as it has been for Michigan State, UCLA, Michigan and Notre Dame in recent years.

The Vols, with All-American prospect Johnny Majors calling the turn for their steady single-wing attack, meet in-and-out Mississippi while trying to elude the jinx only Oklahoma, Maryland and Ohio State have escaped since 1953.

Tennessee, closing in on the Southeastern Conference crown and a bid to either the Sugar or Cotton Bowl, gained the top spot in this week's Associated Press poll after defeating Georgia Tech 6-0. But the Vols took possession from Oklahoma by only two points.

Upset Ousted Spartans

The last team to oust Oklahoma was Michigan State. That was three weeks ago—and the then unbeaten Spartans were upset on the spot by Illinois 20-13.

A year ago, UCLA led the poll after one game—and on the second weekend of the season lost to Maryland 7-0. Three weeks later, Michigan replaced Maryland as No. 1—only to run into a 14-13 scare by Minnesota that proved a preview to the 25-6 upset by Illinois two weeks later.

In 1954, Notre Dame held the top spot in the second week of the season—and was promptly booted by Purdue 27-14.

Still, with Majors operating behind a line that has refused to be pushed around, Tennessee ranks the favorite against Ole Miss—an early season top 10 member but now No. 19 with a 6-2 record and the nation's top defense.

Perhaps the worst national ranking "jinx" is the one confronting Missouri. The Tigers, who've had their troubles, must face the displaced Sooners at Norman, Okla. Women and children should be barred from this one.

Irish Mauled

The last time Oklahoma was shunted to No. 2, coach Bud Wilkinson's charges mauled Notre Dame 40-0 to get back on top.

The battle against Oklahoma's 37-game winning streak is a last ditch pitch by Missouri for the Orange Bowl. A defeat sends Colorado to the Bowl. As the Big 7 runnerup and substitute for Oklahoma, barred from a repeat trip, Colorado, which ended its league season with last week's 14-14 tie at Missouri, plays at Utah tomorrow.

Colorado's probable New Year's Day opponent, Clemson, finds itself in the Orange Bowl Stadium tonight in an unenviable position against Miami. The eighth-ranked Hurricane is "seething inside," says Coach Andy Gustafson, following NCAAs denial of a plea to lift probation action that bars Miami from Bowl consideration. Miami and Clemson, No. 13, are unbeaten, but tied—Clemson twice.

The lone meeting of top 10 powers sends Ohio State, No. 6, to Iowa City against Iowa's seventh-ranked and Rose Bowl hungry Hawkeyes. A victory would bag the Bowl trip for Iowa, but Ohio State's a toughie as it bids to stretch its Big 10 record of 17 consecutive league victories in pursuit of an unprecedented third successive title.

The "Simon-Pures" also have a big game this weekend, with Yale and unbeaten Princeton meeting for the Ivy League crown. A crowd of about 65,000 is expected to sit in on the struggle at the Yale Bowl.

Other major games:

EAST—Army at Pitt, Virginia at Navy, North Carolina State at Penn State, Brown at Harvard, Boston U at Boston College, Columbia at Penn.

MIDWEST—Wisconsin at Illinois, Purdue at Northwestern, North Carolina at Notre Dame, Baylor at Nebraska.

SOUTH—Mississippi State at LSU, Maryland at South Carolina, Tulane at Vanderbilt, Duke at Wake Forest, Furman at West Virginia.

SOUTHWEST—SMU at Arkansas, Villanova at Houston, Texas at TCU.

FAR WEST—Wyoming at Brigham Young, Washington State at California, Washington at Stanford, Kansas at UCLA, Southern California at Oregon.

U.S., Soviet Map Plans for Series Of Track Meets

Melbourne, Nov. 16 (AP)—American and Russian Athletic chiefs, pausing in their discussions to down seven vodka toasts, today completed tentative plans for a series of home-and-home dual track meets between the two countries beginning next August in Moscow.

The first meet in the United States, possibly in July, 1958, probably would be held in Los Angeles or New York.

The U. S.-Soviet plan, introduced by the Russians, was believed by track veterans here to be unprecedented between the two nations.

Rain Spoils Workouts

It was the major development of yet another dreary, rainy day that found the weather shortening and in some cases shelving workouts by Olympic athletes with the games only five days away.

Because of the weather, most of the nations entered in tomorrow's warmup meet at Bendigo decided on only token teams. But the United States, which dominated the preview competition at Geelong Wednesday night, will have entries in all events except the discus, hammer, walking, steeplechase and marathon.

Russian again has decided to pass up the warmup competition, as it did at Geelong. The Soviets have announced they will not take part in any international competition until the games.

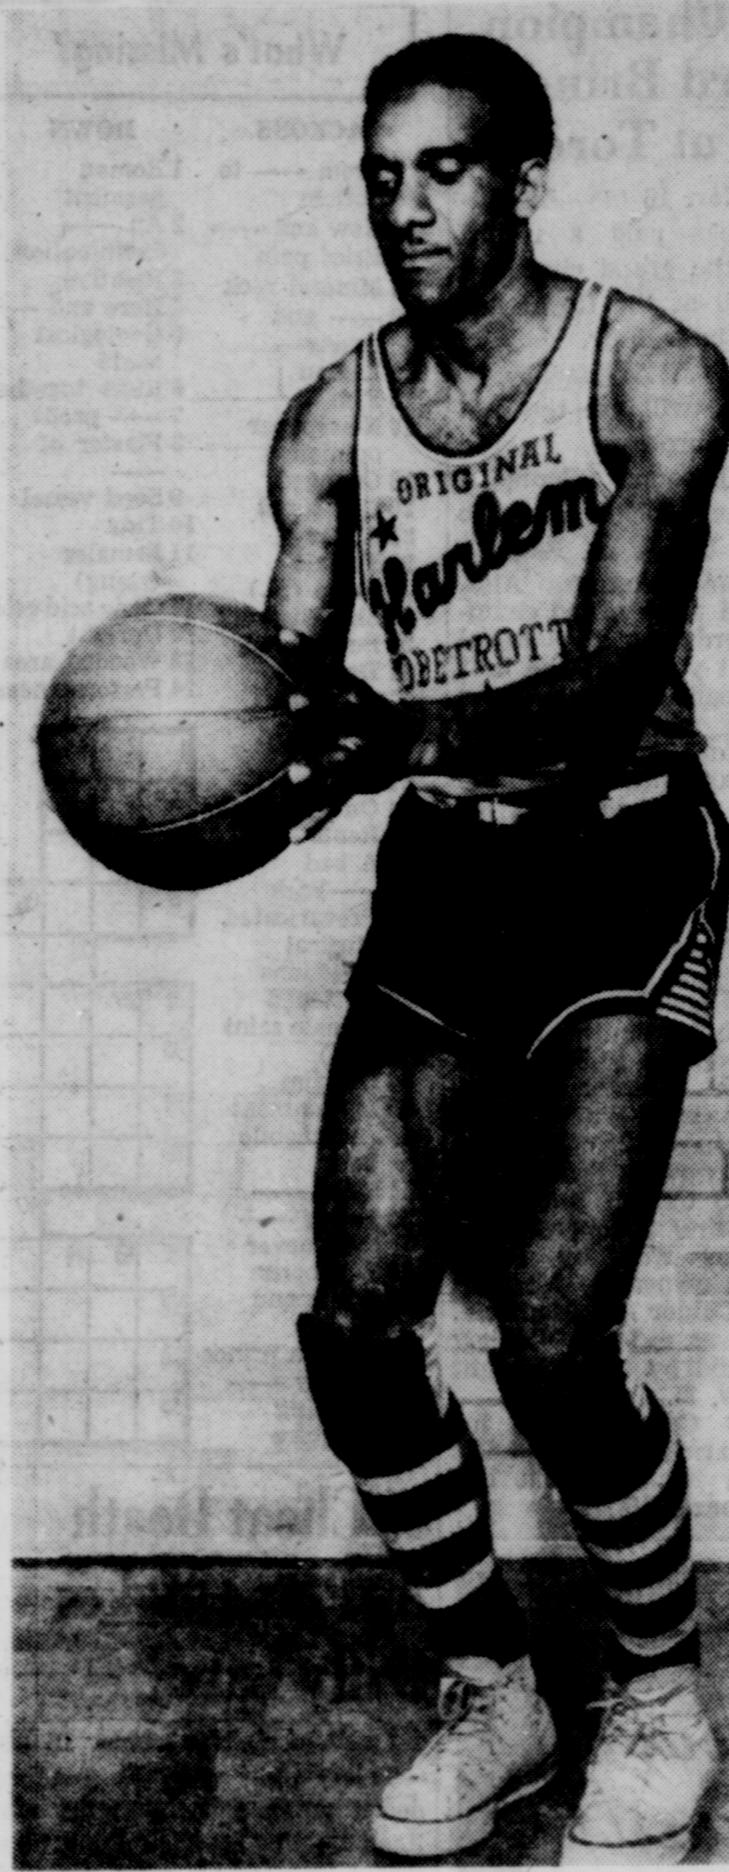

Soviets Send Invitation

The Soviets, who have come out of their shell on a man-on-man basis, sent U. S. officials an invitation for an informal talk on the dual meet series this morning. The Americans accepted, strolling to Russian headquarters two blocks away in the Olympic Village.

The U. S. officials, headed by Dan Ferris, executive secretary of the American Amateur Athletic Union (AAU), were ushered to an upstairs room for the meeting. The discussion, which grew warmer with each toast, lasted a half hour.

Afterward, Ferris said "we are viewing the idea favorably. I think there is a good chance of working it out."

Constantine Kupi, Ferris' Soviet counterpart, said "we are most anxious to arrange this series of meets which we think would be a great thing for sportsmen of both countries."

GLOBETROTTER VET—One of the topnotch veterans on the Harlem Globetrotter roster is Ermer Robinson, 24-year-old graduate of San Diego State College. He will be in action Tuesday night (Nov. 20) against the Philadelphia Sphas at the municipal auditorium.

• The Jones Testimonial:

The citation read: "for outstanding work in the field of child welfare and general community service." It could have added "sports," but Addison Jones' contributions to the world of sport—particularly bowling and baseball—are now legend in the city.

Someone has said that a testimonial often consists of a platitude, an epigram and an anecdote. Perhaps, but if ever a man deserved a testimonial and recognition from the community it was "Mr. Bowling" of Kingston. And it was heart warming to see the cross section of friends and admirers who turned out for the brilliant affair Wednesday night at the Governor Clinton.

Kingston Post No. 150 of the American Legion is to be complimented for recognizing Ad Jones' humane qualities. He exemplifies the Christian ideal of giving something to this life. And it was nice to see Mrs. Jones and the family with him on this shining night in his life. Had Mrs. Jones been less than the wonderful, understanding wife she is, baseball, bowling and the community would be the poorer.

It was a considerable honor for us to be toastmaster at Ad Jones' testimonial. The sports quality of the audience was evident in the presence of such as James (Babe) Volker, president of the Old Timers Baseball Association; Tommy Davitt, Ed Coughlin, Warren Smith, Albert Kurdt, the manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce; the indestructible octogenarian Harry L. (Pop) Edson; Andrew Murphy III, Coach Jack Gilligan, Rose Schatzel, John Ferraro, Fred Davi, Ma and Pa (Bert) Rhea of Poughkeepsie; John (Daisy) Schatzel, manager of Ad's perennial City Baseball League champions; Len Ellsworth of the Babe Ruth League; Bob Graves, Russ Maurer, Meyer Kaplan, and a host of others who through the years have been associated with Mr. Jones.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John, Mayor Fred Stang, Judge Bill Kelly and others called on their distinguished rhetorical ability to praise Mr. Jones in warm terms. They let him know that Kingston was proud to have him and they were proud to be associated with him.

Then Mr. Jones rose to speak, falteringly, movingly and with deep emotion. He thanked everyone who had come there to pay him honor and tribute. He spoke of his business and sports associations. He spoke like a man who knew he was among friends. His children sat tense and obviously moved as his father poured out his heart in that homely, warm fashion that is his. Bob and Mrs. Jones, Evelyn and Harry Wilber, Ruth and Kenneth Heppner and Ronnie. It was a proud moment for them too.

Then to just to be sure, he repeated a request.

"Please make sure to tell all my friends in bowling, in the American Legion, in sports and business that I thank them from the bottom of my heart for all they did to make this a wonderful night for me and my family."

And so it ended. A real tribute to a really fine person.

Clear Loes on Paternity Charge

Newark, N. J., Nov. 16 (AP)—Billy Loes, 26-year-old pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles, was cleared by an all-male jury last night of paternity charge filed by an inmate of Clinton Reformatory for women.

Suzanne Fulinello, brought from the reformatory to testify in family court, claimed Loes fathered her daughter in a Miami Hotel in 1952. He was in Florida for spring training with the Brooklyn Dodgers at the time.

But Loes denied ever knowing the 24-year-old girl.

The jury took only 35 minutes to reach a verdict of innocent in the civil case. Loes sighed with relief and told newsmen: "My only worry now is a sore arm."

Miss Fulinello was sentenced to an indefinite term in the reformatory after the conviction for trying to hold up a Newark real estate office last year.

Dodgers Eyeing Japanese Players

Tokyo, Nov. 16 (AP)—Brooklyn Dodger field supervisor Al Campanis said today about a dozen outstanding Japanese baseball players will be added to the club's master card file of potential Dodger material.

Both Campanis and Vice President Fresco Thompson reiterated before leaving for the United States that a plan to invite a few Japanese to Dodger spring training is "under consideration." A final decision will be made later in New York.

"If we invite any," Campanis said, "it will be because we think they can make a certain club in our system and help that club, or else we won't invite them."

40 Answer Cage Call at New Paltz

Veteran Randy Kelder powered a 636 series, with games of 202-233-201, to feature a bristling duel between Rheingold Beer and Governor Clinton Market in last night's session of the Ferraro Major League.

The Rheingolds, although outpinned 2956-2876, scored a 2-1 victory as the two sides accounted for a total of six "600" triples.

Charlie Bock anchored the Seneca squad of the IBM Seneca League with 623 slam on lines of 187, 180 and 256.

It comes as no great surprise to learn that the "600" triples in the Ferraro Major were compiled on alleys 7 and 8.

Tom Carlini posted 204-226-604; Chris Gallo 230-600; John Ferraro Jr. 230-605; Charlie Gildersleeve 247-606 and Larry Petersen Jr. 224-213-615. The Clintons smashed 1060 in the first game.

The results:

On National Note:

The St. Louis Met Classic is averaging 319 per team. Elimination matches to determine contestants in the All-Star tournament (Nov. 30-Dec. 9) turned up some sizzling totals. At Toledo, Bob Nickel had a 1039 for four games to top Don Carter's recognized individual tournament record of 1025. At St. Louis Carter's teammate, Dick Weber, had 1453 for six games, seven pins under the recognized six-game tourney mark held by another teammate, Ray Bluth.

Jerry Oster of Kingston will represent the mid-Hudson area in the match play championships in the establishment news: Edison Lanes (Edison Turnpike, N. J.) has 66 AMF pinsetters, largest automatic spot in the East. Echo Lanes (Mountainside, N.J.) is next with 64 recently installed Brunswick automatics. 54 Brunswick automatics grace South Bay Bowling Center (Redondo Beach, Calif.) the plush $225,000 investment bankrolled by movie actress Jane Greer and formally opened Nov. 10 with America's "toastmaster general" George Jessel as mc.

Largest automatic equipped installation though is State Fair Recreation (Detroit) where 70 AMF machines were introduced this fall.

Sports Car Club Formed by KPA, Rec Department

The first junior sports car club in the history of Kingston is now a reality, according to an announcement by Andrew Murphy III, superintendent of recreation.

After much planning and work the club has been organized under the joint sponsorship of the Kingston Patrolman's Association and the Kingston Recreation Department. Its title is the Kingston Junior Motor Sports Club.

The idea of forming a local club was conceived after a successful show put on by a Long Island group in September at Hasbrouck Park. Since then, interest has grown by leaps and bounds.

The club came into official being Tuesday at a meeting of parents and youngsters at the American Legion building. A second meeting is slated for Nov. 27 at 7:30 p. m. at the Legion at which time a completed car and all parts necessary in its construction will be on display.

The top aim of the club is to provide wholesome recreation for the youths of the community. Youngsters joining the club don't necessarily have to compete in races or against time, but may build their own cars at their leisure to drive over a specially constructed course set up and strictly supervised by the sponsoring groups.

James Given Confidence Vote

Marine Is Given Year Term, Bad Conduct Papers

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—Cornell University alumni and football fans gave head football Coach George K. (Lefty) James a vote of confidence at a testimonial last night.

James, whose current team has had a seven-game losing streak, is in his 10th season at the university.

More than 130 members of the Cornell Club attended the ceremony.

James' overall record includes 49 victories, 37 losses and two ties. His teams have won or tied for the Ivy title four times.

Rookies Tavern Trips Lincolns in Opener

Rookies Tavern opened its shuffleboard season with a 5-2 victory over Lincoln Park Inn on the Lincoln boards.

Al J. Oster doubled for 34 points and Don Gallagher scored 27 for the Rookies. Bud Leininger had a 14 single. Ed Lane had 14 and Otto Clement and Ed Schatzel 12 each for the Lincolns.

Rainbow trout to 38 pounds, brown trout up to 20 pounds, and landlocked salmon up to 28 pounds have been caught in the high country lakes. Average weights are lower, of course, but fish from 10 to 15 pounds are common in all the river systems.

The nine-day trip, for instance, costs $345 for each member of a four-angler party. Your tab covers the services of an English-speaking fishing expert, your round trip plane fare from Buenos Aires to Bariloche, all hotel accommodations and meals in Buenos Aires, Bariloche, Lake Hess and Correntoso—all licenses, taxes, tips, transportation by yacht, boats and motor cars.

If you tried to do this yourself, it might easily run twice the package price, and then you wouldn't have expert guidance.

In blistering heat of more than 92 degrees Miss Fry stayed off two match points and rallied to defeat Beryl Penrose of New South Wales 5-7, 8-6, 6-1. Miss Gibson beat Mary Carter, also of New South Wales, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4 in a rain-interrupted match.

Misses Fry, Gibson Gain Tennis Final

Sydney, Nov. 16 (AP)—Shirley Fry of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Althea Gibson of New York made it an All-American final by winning their semifinal matches today of the New South Wales Women's tennis championship. The final will be played tomorrow.

In blistering heat of more than 92 degrees Miss Fry stayed off two match points and rallied to defeat Beryl Penrose of New South Wales 5-7, 8-6, 6-1. Miss Gibson beat Mary Carter, also of New South Wales, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4 in a rain-interrupted match.

Soviets Pack Schools

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union now claims 217,000 elementary schools, 3,796 technical schools and special secondary schools, and 798 universities, institutes, and colleges. An official announcement said no less than one million students would be attending boarding schools by 1960.

Trail Sweepers Hold Annual Open House

Two ski movies were shown after which refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed.

Guests were on hand from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Saugerties and other surrounding areas.

Open house is held annually by the Trail Sweepers to introduce new members to the ski club and to invite other ski clubs to an evening of pre-season sociability.

Johnson Gets Big Ring Chance Against Carter

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—Young Jack Johnson has anything on the ball, tonight is the time for him to show it. The Los Angeles heavyweight gets a break when he subs for ailing Bob Baker at Madison Square Garden against Harold Carter.

A Garden main event and a national radio-television shot (NBC at 10 p. m., EST) gives Johnson a great opportunity. However, they are doing him no favors in giving him Carter as an opponent.

Carter, 22, is one of the few young men of promise in the heavyweight class. Although he has fought only 24 bouts for a 20-2 record, he already is ranked high in the division. The National Boxing Assn. rates him No. 7. Ring Magazine makes him No. 6.

Son of Barber

Son of a Linden, N. J., barber, Carter got his break by subbing on a TV show in early summer. Although he lost to John Summerlin, May 23, he showed enough to merit another look. He stopped Bob Satterfield at Syracuse, N. Y., and outpointed Summerlin in a fight in the Sept. 7 rematch. Both were TV bouts.

Unbeaten in seven starts in 1953, Carter has lost only once in his last 12. He drew with Bob Satterfield, Feb. 28, and outpointed Satterfield, March 20, at Miami Beach. The International Boxing Club said it has had trouble getting opponents for this rugged youngster who graduated from the Golden Gloves in 1953.

Johnson is the unknown factor in this match. Matchmaker Billy Brown desperately sent out smoke signals for a sub when Baker reported he was suffering from the gripe early in the week. Johnson, whose real name is John Lee Storey, got the job. The highest recommendation for Johnson is a TKO over ex-champ Ezzard Charles last December.

Studies Capitalism

Princeton, N. J. (AP)—A research center to teach the principles of the American capitalistic economy has been established here. Called the Princeton Panel, the center will invite leading scholars and researchers to "study how American capitalism serves social and moral as well as economic values." The Panel also aims to show "how the market can be a democratic, free-voting process in which the buying housewife can make or break the producer."

A Realist

Clarksdale, Miss. (AP)—In Mrs. Louise Butler's first-grade class, a boy drawing a picture of a man asked for a white crayon. "Just leave the paper white," advised Mrs. Butler. "I can't," said the young realist. "I'm going to make his shirt blue, but first I've got to put his underwear on."

NC State Denies Cash Inducements To Cage Prospect

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 16 (AP)—The chancellor of North Carolina State College said yesterday reports of charges involving recruiting of basketball star Jackie Moreland were being made against State two days after he enrolled here Sept. 5.

Dr. Carey H. Bostian said the origin of the charges was not known. Bostian said "we want to learn from the National Collegiate Association of the evidence" that resulted in State being placed on probation for four years in the recruiting of Moreland, 18, widely sought basketball prospect of Minden, La.

Shortly after he enrolled at State, Moreland told newsmen State had given only a scholarship and $15 in laundry money as allowed by the Atlantic Coast Conference rules.

The NCAA without using names charged that State had offered cash inducements to a five-year unrestricted scholarship to a friend of the prospect. Reports have identified the friend as Moreland's girl friend.

Major Ports

walkout in September of last year in protest against policies of the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

Longshoremen in other ports joined in, but, in some cases for brief periods as a token of sympathy, in contrast with the virtually united action in other ports this time.

There was a two-day strike in October, 1954, and only six months before that New York had a 29-day waterfront strike—the longest in the port's history.

The ILA formerly was affiliated with the AFL but was ousted on the ground that it harbored criminal elements. It has been the target of federal, state and city investigations.

The ILA has three times blocked the AFL or AFL-CIO in attempts to gain control of the port with a new union.

Only last month the ILA defeated the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Longshoremen in the latest of the bargaining elections.

Negotiations went on for a half hour after the strike started but when they broke off an ILA spokesman said there still was disagreement on a wide range of issues.

Snow, Cold Hit Midwest Sections

(By The Associated Press)

The season's heaviest snowfall and coldest weather gave a wintry setting to northern sections of the midwest today.

The mid-November storm, moving from the Rockies across the plains, dumped a foot of snow in northern Minnesota areas. Strong west and northwesterly winds swept the snow into drifts in many areas, cut visibility and slowed travel.

Gusts Blast Chicago

The leading edge of the cold air nipped Ohio in the north and through Mississippi in the south during the night. It was expected to extend over the eastern half of the nation, except Florida, during the day. Winds gusts of 60 MPH hit Chicago during a rain storm, uprooting trees and knocking down power lines.

Temperatures dropped from the Great Lakes region through the Dakotas southward through Mississippi and southwestward through southern California. Biggest falls were from Illinois and Indiana southwestward through Missouri, Arkansas and northwest. Readings were about 35 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier, ranging from the 40s in lower Michigan to near 10 in the Dakotas; near 60 in mid-southern areas and in the 30s in the southwest desert region.

The heaviest snowfalls were from Minnesota through northwestern Wisconsin and into western upper Michigan. Falls generally were from 6 to 10 inches, but in Duluth, Minn., there were 12 inches on the ground. More than four inches fell in the Minneapolis area.

Test Is Devised

By VA Doctors to Cut Hemorrhages

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Veterans Administration (VA) said today two doctors at its Pittsburgh Hospital have devised a test to help prevent fatal hemorrhages among victims of cirrhosis of the liver.

The test checks blood pressure in the spleen to determine in advance the possible danger of hemorrhage. It was developed by Drs. Francis G. Jackson and John L. Happel of the VA Hospital staff and of the University of Pittsburgh Medical School.

The disease is marked by destruction of liver cells and an increase in scar tissue of the liver. It may be associated with heart conditions, inadequate diet in alcoholics and a number of other conditions.

Vein Becomes Blocked

The doctors explained that occasionally in a patient with cirrhosis of the liver the portal vein, which is the main entrance for the passage of blood to the liver becomes blocked.

When this happens the blood backs up and sometimes causes internal hemorrhages which can prove fatal.

In the test devised by Jackson and Happel a hollow needle is inserted between the lower ribs on the left side of the body until it enters the pulp of the spleen, an organ that serves as a storehouse for blood.

To Relieve Strain

The doctors said that because much of the blood that flows into the liver vein comes from the spleen and pressure caused by blood backing up from the blocked vein would be reflected in the needle in the spleen.

Jackson and Happel said that when evidence shows excessive pressure a possible hemorrhage may be prevented by disconnecting the liver vein and connecting it with another vein to relieve the strain of obstructed blood in the stomach.

Mollet Given Note

Paris, Nov. 16 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon today delivered a new note from Washington, presumably from President Eisenhower, to French Premier Guy Mollet. There was no immediate word as to the contents of the message, which was received here just a few hours after Mollet received a note from Soviet Prime Minister Bulganin demanding that France and Britain pay compensation to Egypt for their invasion of that country.

Admits Embezzlement

Clark Township, N. J., Nov. 16 (AP)—A 35-year-old bride is in Union county jail today on a charge of embezzling $140,000 from her husband's electronics firm over a three year period. Mrs. Conrad Miller, married for only two weeks, admitted the alleged embezzlement during a tearful arraignment last night, but an innocent plea was entered on her behalf. Magistrate Edward E. Reider then held Mrs. Miller without bail for grand jury action.

Reds Want More Milk

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union, looking for more milk and butter, has established a national dairy committee including dairymen, scientists, and inventors of dairy machinery. Soviet officials just back from a study of dairying in Italy, announced at the same time affiliation of this new committee with the International Dairy Federation.

Blast Kills Two

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 15 (AP)—A small packing house of black powder blew to bits last night at an isolated plant site of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc. Two workers inside were killed. The building, a three-story 20 by 20 foot timber and concrete structure for packing finished powder into kegs, was reduced to rubble. It was situated about eight miles from Scranton near Moosic. Plant Manager C. W. Brooks identified the dead men as Willard Lake, 54, of nearby Peckville, and John Stankosky, 38, of nearby Winton. Two other men had left the building about 10 minutes before the explosion. They said everything had appeared to be in order.

Eastern Cattle Prizes Reach $51,000 Amount

Timonium, Md., Nov. 16 (AP)—Cattle-loaded trucks pulled away from the State Fair Grounds today, ringing down the curtain on the 1956 Eastern National Livestock Show.

On a siding behind the big cattle barn, a special livestock train waited to be loaded with some of the finest beef in the nation. The train will pull out this weekend for Chicago and the International Livestock Show, the world series of such events.

More than $51,000 in prize money was awarded during the six days of the 9th annual Eastern National.

In the final judging yesterday, Cek Royal Domino, owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Knowlton of Bellefontaine, Ohio, was selected champion polled Hereford bull. The champion female was BP Miss Advance Dom, 7 from the herd of Benjamin Parran of St. Leonard, Md.

Other champions selected during the show included:

In the fat cattle judging, Pennsylvania State University showed both the grand champion and reserve grand champion steers. The grand champion was sold at auction for a new Eastern National record price of $510, topping by 10 cents the previous record set three years ago.

Officials said 423 steers were sold at the auction. They averaged 1,026 pounds and brought an average price of $32.67 per hundredweight.

At yesterday's feeder calf sale, 65 head were sold. The top price of $230 was paid for a calf from the Belhaven Farm at Cockeysville, Md., of Mr. and Mrs. L. McLane Fisher.

Cases Settled In County Court

A verdict of no cause of action was returned by the jury Thursday afternoon in an action for negligence brought by John Maddox of Ellenville against Lawrence Jason Smith, an action arising out of an automobile accident. Kooperman and Kooperman for plaintiff and Cook for defendants.

Settled was No. 34, Harry G. Koller against Gertrude Rhodes, a contract action. Napoletano, Kelly and Saccman for plaintiff and Roy L. Featherstone for defendant. Expects Papers In Cleveland to Resume Monday

Cleveland, Nov. 16 (AP)—Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze expects Cleveland's three major daily newspapers, which haven't printed since Nov. 1, to resume publication Monday, if the Typographical Union membership approves a tentative wage agreement reached early today in talks at city hall.

The Typographical Union contract had expired Sept. 30, but members had continued to work without a contract as negotiations were being conducted.

The Guild settlement was approved late yesterday in separate balloting at each of the three papers. Webb Seely, Guild president, said the vote in the press unit was 227-29 for approval, at the News 66-11 and at the Plain Dealer 61-10.

"This wraps it up as far as I'm concerned," said the tired mayor, who entered the dispute as mediator last Nov. 7. Yesterday the Cleveland Newspaper Guild approved new contracts with all three papers, accepting terms proposed by the mayor.

Types Vote Sunday

The typographical agreement, which provides wage boosts of $4.50 per week retroactive to Oct. 1 and an additional $3.50 in the second year of the two year contract—will be voted on by the membership at a meeting Sunday. The contract would cover 520 composing room employees at the three papers. It would provide for arbitration of the union's claim for pay for the idle time between Nov. 1 and resumption of publication.

The agreement with the Guild, which represents a total of about 700 editorial and commercial workers, provides for wage increases of from $4 to $6.50 the first year, and $2.50 across the board in the second year of the contract.

Struck Oct. 31

The Guild struck the Scripps-Howard Press when its contract expired Oct. 31. Next day the Plain Dealer and News, both published by Forest City Publishing Co., discontinued publication, declaring production had been halted by a refusal of delivery truck drivers to accept newspapers bearing the name of the struck press along with the names of the News and Plain Dealer.
